I've been working as a graphic designer since 2006 in both commissioned and self-initiated projects. In 2009 I became partner of the Madrid-based graphic design studio Disismaineim, focused in cultural institutions and publishing stuff. My work ranges over printed matter, video and the internet. I also co-run the independent publication New papers and the Madrid Self-publishing Fair La Noche de los Libros Mutantes with Javier Andrés. Furthermore, I'm involved in curatorial projects and experimental art formats under the name of Barriobajero with Silvia Bianchi.
